WHAT FAMILIES CAN LEARN FROM TEACHERS (AND WHAT THEY CAN'T)

Todd Wanerman
7:00 - 8:30 pm

Virtual link in Friday Bing Bulletin

Todd Wanerman, MA will share research and experiences from his 30 years as a preschool teacher, consultant, coach, professor, writer and parent to facilitate a conversation about rewarding family relationships. Learn about the brain science of developments and relationships. Explore key professional perspectives and practices that can work at home, and also how and why families and home must be different than teachers and schools. Finally, learn how you can use some of these general perspectives to support your children and family through these extremely trying times.
