Presented by Stephanie Agnew
Assistant Director, Parents Place on the Peninsula

Stephanie Agnew coordinates parent education workshops at Parents Place in Palo Alto and San Mateo, where she also consults with parents about preschool, kindergarten, and elementary school choices; positive discipline; and behavior management for young children. She provides teacher training workshops and classroom support for many local area preschools. An expert in early childhood education, Agnew taught in Palo Alto area preschools for 20 years and owned a preschool for 5 years. She is a former head teacher at Bing Nursery School and earned her bachelor’s degree at Stanford University.
